

TECHNICAL COMMUNICATION

NINTH EDITION

JOHN M.
LANNONHome > Hot Topics > Visual Communication > Visual Rhetoric and Design Principles >Visual CommunicationIntroduction[Edward Tufte on Visual
Communication](#)[Visual Rhetoric and Design
Principles](#)Visual Communication*Visual Rhetoric and Design Principles

5.6: More examples of distorted visuals and exaggerated claims
12.1: "Chunking" in electronic media
14.1: Examples of effective visuals
14.5: Basic photo editing techniques
14.6: Where is technical visualization going with 3-D graphics?
15.2: How white space conveys attitude
15.3: Visual "chunking"

- Visualizing Information: Design Strategies for Displaying Complex Data
A straightforward schema at the "New Arts of Persuasion" site on displaying information in tables, brackets and tree diagrams, flow charts and organizational charts, notational systems, and maps.
- Visual Communication-Visual Rhetorics
The University of Iowa, Department of Communication Studies has compiled a treasure trove of visual communication and rhetoric links. An excellent jumping-off point.
- Experience Design Resources
Nathan Shedroff's creatively designed and in-depth resource site on interface design, information design, interaction design, multimedia, and visual design.
- Adobe Evangelists Photoshop Tips and Tech
Not just a basic tutorial for the bewildered, but a collection of basic editing, community technical support, and help links.

Back